

The Hidden Advantages of Working from Home

Most people, if given the opportunity, would work from home if they could. If you are considering finding a job or business that you can do to make a living working from home, consider these points when deciding if a working-from-home job is right for you.

Home-Based Workers Have Better Benefits

There are plenty of benefits to working at home. The top ten reasons why at-home workers enjoy working from home instead of in a traditional workplace are:

10. Working from home means that you can get your best, most thoughtful work done while doing other daily routine tasks.

9. At-home employment allows you to have it all – work, family, life – because you can fit your career into your schedule.

8. Work-at-home jobs give you flexibility. You aren't limited to a 9-5 schedule and you probably work more but in less time.

#7. Working at home makes you happier and improves your overall work satisfaction.

#6. Work-from-home employment gives you better work-life balance because being at home helps bridge the gap between childcare, school and other responsibilities.

#5. Employment at home gives you more time to work because you aren't swamped with office politics and overscheduled meetings.

#3. At home jobs keep your cost of living lower because you no longer need to spend a fortune on dry cleaning, eating lunch out, high-priced gas, or wear and tear on the car.

#2. Working at home allows you to be guilt-free because you aren't away from the family, kids, elderly parent or other at-home responsibilities anymore.

#1. Work-from-home solutions saves you time! No more wasting time in traffic and on the road.

The Best Part of Working-At-Home

Freedom is something that greatly improves quality of life, although most people don't realize it until they have it. The freedom to work independently and not be under a supervisor or bosses' constant supervision liberating. The freedom to attend every Cub Scout meeting or softball game makes you realize that you aren't missing the really important parts of life. When you discover that you have the ability to make a living while working from home, and still participate in your life without missing a beat, you will come to the realization that you truly do have it all.
